WORLD COALITION
AGAINST THE DEATH PENALTY

The purpose of World Day on the death penalty for drug crimes

The aim of the World Coalition is to reinforce the international dimension of the fight against the death penalty. Its ultimate objective is to achieve universal abolition of the death penalty. In those countries which still use the death penalty, the World Coalition is working to reduce its use, invoking in particular the respect of international standards. Among these is the restriction of crimes punishable by death for the most serious crimes- intentional killing.

Every year on World Day, the World Coalition highlights one problem aspect of the death penalty. On 10 October 2015, the World Coalition Against the Death Penalty along with abolitionist activists worldwide marked the 13th World Day against the Death Penalty by drawing attention to the death penalty for drug crimes.

Running against the abolitionist worldwide movement, many countries added the death penalty for drug crimes in their legal system between 1980 and 2000. This trend is going down today, however, in some countries, drug crimes are the main cause of death sentences and executions. This report introduces the objectives of the 2015 World Day, the activities implemented to realise it and the impact of this 13rd World Day against the Death Penalty.

[1] Main objective of the 2015 World Day: Raising public awareness around the application of the death penalty for drug-related offences to reduce its use

The main objective of the World Day 2015 was to increase public awareness of the issue of the death penalty for drug trafficking in order to reduce its use. The United Nations, the European Union and the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights came together to proclaim that the death penalty is not the solution to deter criminals involved in drug trafficking. The Secretary-General of the United Nations Ban Ki-moon has urged Member States to abolish the death penalty, which "does not dissuade from drug crimes, or protect people against drug abuse."

431 events took place in 80 countries and 651 media references were recorded in 89 countries worldwide. By comparison, 425 events were organized in 82 countries in 2014 and the press review recorded 484 references in 88 countries.

To do so, the World Coalition has developed several tools and coordinated the mobilisation for 10 October all over the world.

1) Compiling and distributing information and mobilisation tools for the 13th World Day

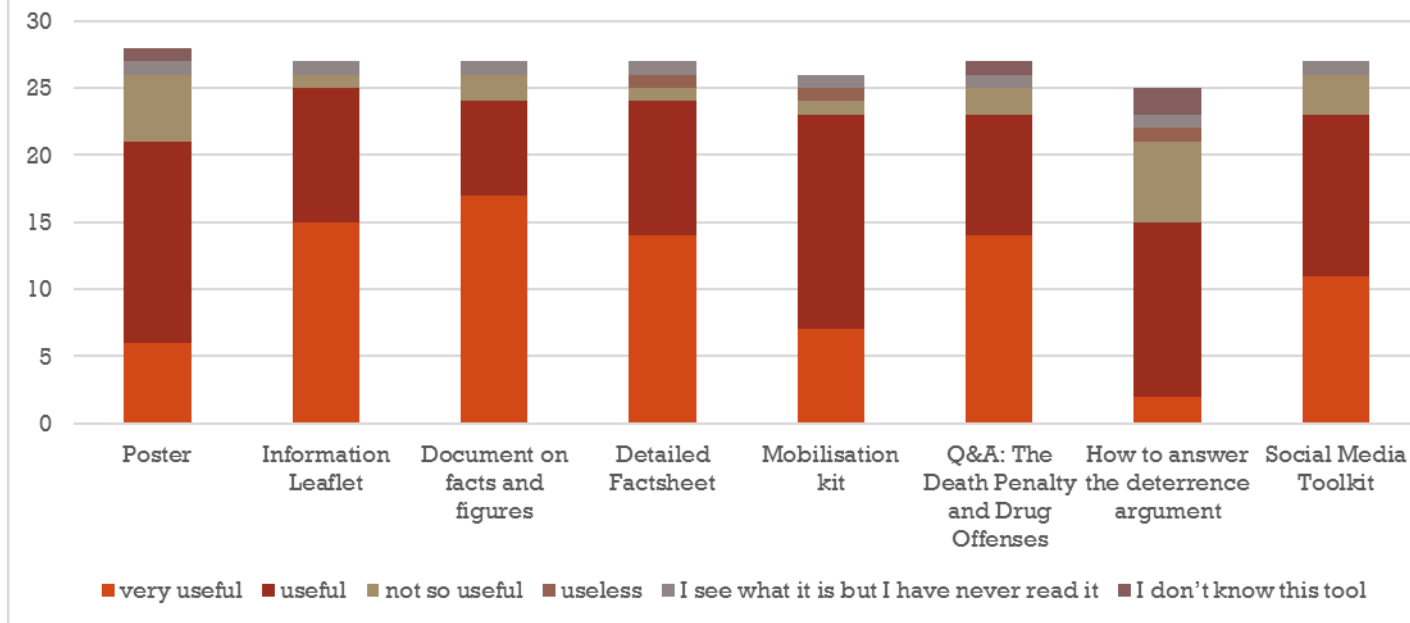

Every year, to encourage the widest participation possible in World Day against the Death Penalty and to promote abolitionist civil society, especially in those countries which still use the death penalty, the World Coalition puts together information and mobilisation tools. These are made available to members, the media, and anyone who wants to take part in World Day in order to raise awareness and mobilise people on a local level in as many countries as possible. These packs were all sent out to members of the World Coalition and its partners in July 2015. The packs were also available on request and could be downloaded from the World Coalition website:

- ▶ Poster - 13th World Day against the death penalty
- ▶ Leaflet - 13th World Day
- ▶ Facts And Figures 2015
- ▶ Detailed Fact Sheet - Death Penalty and Drug Crimes
- ▶ Mobilisation Kit
- ▶ 2014 World Day Report
- ▶ Q&A: The Death Penalty and Drug Offenses prepared with Harm Reduction International and International Drug Policy Consortium
- ▶ Social Media Toolkit prepared by Harm Reduction International
- ▶ How to answer the deterrence argument
- ▶ Petitions to commute the death sentence for drugs of Shahrul Izani Suparman in Malaysia, prepared by Amnesty International
- ▶ Petition to support the 700 people on death row in Vietnam, prepared by ACAT France
- ▶ Memo prepared by Reprieve to contact European government and ask them to release information about the UNODC programs they are funding

▶ Distribution:

- 436 recipients received the 5,200 leaflets and 3,600 posters, including 203 parcels to members of the World Coalition and 233 to other partners;
- 2790 tools available online were downloaded from the World Coalition's website;
- A total of 15,731 pages were viewed on the website of the World Coalition between 6 and 12 October 2015 (against 15,785 in 2014) and nearly 8,060 pages between 9 and 11 October 2015 (against 5,000 pages on 10 October 2014);
- Between the publication of the World Day page on 10 June 2015 and 31 March 2016, the campaign page has been accessed 35,648 times in all languages (against 35,975 times in 2014 and 23,000 times in 2013).

2) Participating to and encouraging the publication of reports on the death penalty for drug crimes

For October 10, many NGOs have published Reports analysing, from different perspectives, the issue of the death penalty for drug offences to increase general knowledge on the issue:

- ▶ The Death Penalty for Drug Offences: Global Overview 2015: broad explanation of what the death penalty for drug-related crimes is, by Harm Reduction International
- ▶ Drugs and the Death Penalty: global study by Open Society Foundations on the relationship between Drugs and the Death Penalty and recommendations for the 2016 United Nations General Assembly Special Session on Drugs.
- ▶ The Death Penalty for Drug Crimes in Asia: Asia houses the great majority of countries that still retain the death penalty for drug-related offences. On World Day, FIDH released a report offering an insight on the illegality of the death penalty for drug offences in Asia.
- ▶ 2015 World Day Against the Death Penalty: Not the Solution to Drug-Related Crimes: Amnesty International, in this report, demonstrates that capital punishment is an ineffective deterrent to drug-related crimes.
- ▶ Flawed Justice. Unfair Trials and the Death Penalty in Indonesia: denounces all the international human rights and standards infringed by Indonesia. The report, published by Amnesty International, relies on the experience of individuals who are, or have been, on the Indonesian death row.
- ▶ Deadly Injustice. Visualizing Executions in Iran 2011-2015: Iran Human Rights offers an overview of the executions in Iran, since 2011.
- ▶ Justice Crucified: The Death Penalty in Saudi Arabia, report by Repreive focusing on 62 cases and the UK relations with Saudi Arabia. It echoes Amnesty International's report ("Killing in the Name of Justice". The Death Penalty in Saudi Arabia) published in August 2015.
- ▶ The Legal Defence and Assistance Project in Nigeria released a report saying that over 16,500 Nigerians are in prisons abroad and nearly 350 of them are facing death penalty. 295 of them are on death row in Asia, most of them for drug offenses.

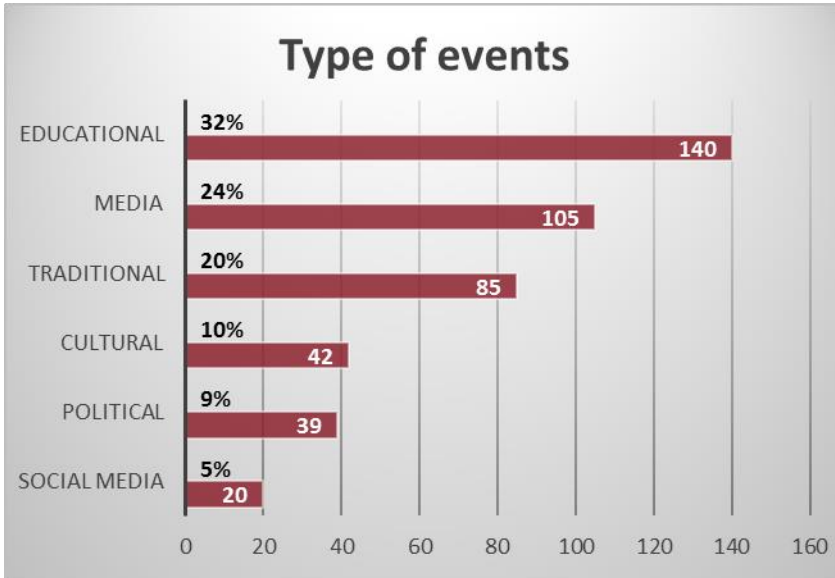

These reports have all been accompanied by media campaigns, including on social networks, official launches, press releases and press conferences, often in partnership with the World Coalition like in New York or Kuala Lumpur. They were the subject of many articles and contributed to raising public awareness on the issue of the death penalty for drug crimes.

► Short term results:

- Media coverage: with 651 press cuts in 89 countries worldwide, this 13rd World Day has had an unprecedented media impact. This figure is a record for the World Coalition, all World Days included. In 2014, the press review was of 484 media references in 88 countries.

3) Encourage the organisation of local initiatives and promote an abolitionist civil society

The World Coalition centralises all information and redistributes it, in particular by way of an interactive calendar on its website listing events organised for World Day. Over the period leading up to World Day, the Coalition is contacted repeatedly by the media and individuals wanting to know whether there are any events happening near them.

As shown by the large number of reports published, nearly a third of all events were aimed at educational activities (workshops, round tables, talks, reports, debates, speeches). The next largest proportion is made up of events for media (press releases, press conferences, public statements, TV or radio interviews) followed by events of a more traditional nature (demonstrations, petitions, distribution of leaflets). Cultural events (film showings, concerts, exhibitions, theatre plays) and political events (lobbying meetings, government statements, presentation of a draft bill) represent only 10 and 9% of all organised public events, while the more innovative forms using new technology represent only 5%. This is explained mainly by the fact that new technologies and social media in particular are used more by individuals than organised groups and thus more difficult to track.

► Short term results:

- 431 collective events organised in 80 countries around the world (425 events in 82 countries in 2014)
- 3,389 people visited the online 2015 World Day Calendar of Events (6,136 visitors in 2014)

[2] Make some noise before UNGASS on drugs!

A United Nations General Assembly Special Sessions (UNGASS) on drugs took place in April 2016 and civil society used the opportunity of World Day against the Death Penalty and UNGASS on drugs to highlight human rights violations linked to the 'war on drugs', including the death penalty.

The goal was to make some noise about the unacceptable reality of the death penalty for drug-related offenses.

To do so, the World Coalition encourages its members and abolitionist worldwide to:

- ▶ get in touch with local drug policy reform and harm reduction civil society to organise events together (Contacts and a new document called "Q&A on Death Penalty and Drugs" will be provided by the World Coalition over the summer)
- ▶ publish joint statements, articles and contact the local media
- ▶ join the social media campaign

Regarding the coordination of international mobilisation, the World Coalition has worked with its members to make noise before the UNGASS on drugs with the following activities:

- ▶ joint declaration with PRI to the Commission on Crime in Vienna in May 2015
- ▶ Joint Report with Harm Reduction International (HRI) to the UN Human Rights Council on drugs and the death penalty in June 2015
- ▶ Side Event on UNGASS with HRI during the regional Congress in Malaysia in June 2015
- ▶ Joint Declaration to the Human Rights Council in Geneva in September 2015
- ▶ Partnership with Open Society Institute to launch a memo to the UN missions in New York on 5 October
- ▶ Conference and publication of HRI in Kuala Lumpur on 18-21 October
- ▶ Joint Statement to the UNODC Commission on Narcotic Drugs and the Preparatory Commission for the UNGASS in Vienna in December 2015
- ▶ UNGASS: April 2016 in New York

. The fact that the International Harm Reduction Conference was organised in connection with World Day gave the World Coalition the perfect opportunity to contact associations such as the International Drug Policy Consortium, OSF and others. Since then, an action plan for the World Coalition leading to UNGASS was developed closely with them.

▶ Impact:

- The Civil Society Task Force, who acted as the voice of civil society during the negotiations leading to UNGASS, has conducted wide consultations worldwide. They highlighted seven key issues, including ending the death penalty.
- A total of three parallel events were organized on the issue of the death penalty and it was a recurring theme of interventions of civil society, the UN bodies and member states abolitionists.
- According to Harm Reduction International, the death penalty was one of the biggest issues in the UNGASS, precisely because there was no mention made in the final document.
- The final resolution (A/RES/S-30/1) recommends a respect for human rights in the judicial process for those convicted for drug trafficking and paves the way for an interpretation in favor of the abolition of the death penalty.

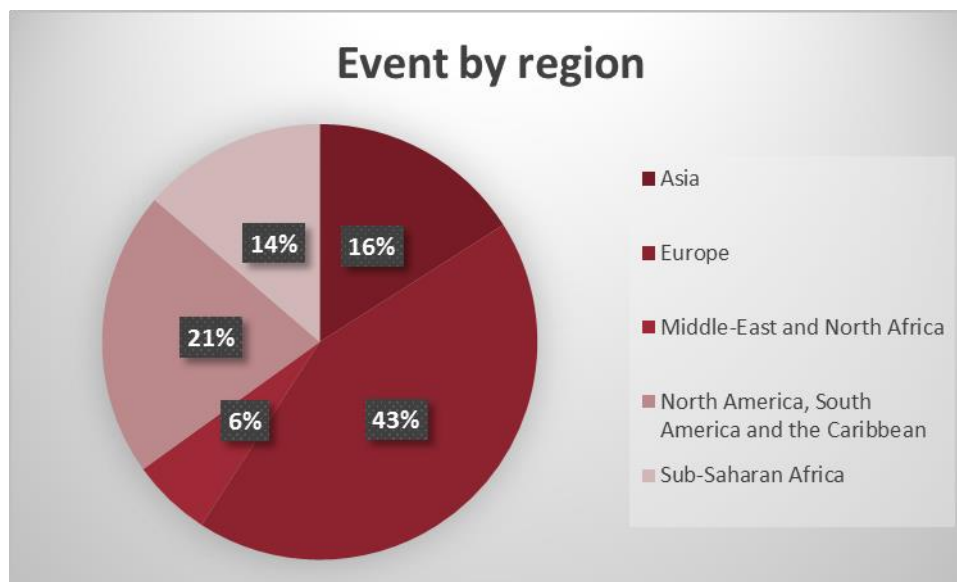

We, Heads of State and Government, ministers and representatives of Member States, (...) recommend the following measures:

Promote and implement effective criminal justice responses to drug-related crimes to bring perpetrators to justice that ensure legal guarantees and due process safeguards pertaining to criminal justice proceedings, including practical measures to uphold the prohibition of arbitrary arrest and detention and of torture and other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment and to eliminate impunity, in accordance with relevant and applicable international law and taking into account United Nations standards and norms on crime prevention and criminal justice, and ensure timely access to legal aid and the right to a fair trial.

[3] Put pressure on retentionist States to abolish the use of the death penalty for drug-related offenses

1) Actions sustainable over the long term in retentionist countries

Mobilisation is often less marked and more difficult to achieve in the most retentionist countries; this was especially true of the Middle East and North Africa (MENA) in 2014.

► Africa

For World Day Against the Death Penalty, World Coalition member organisations organised 60 events in 20 countries, which is less than in 2014 (87 events in 22 countries), but similar to 2013 (60 events in 16 countries). This could be explained by the focus on drug-related offenses which was not very relevant in Africa. In most countries, events focused on education, media work or petition-signing. This is consistent with the press review of 149 cuttings from 21 countries, representing one-fourth of all press mentions recorded worldwide.

► Americas

For World Day, World Coalition member organisations organised 93 events in 13 countries (compared to 86 events in 18 countries in 2014 and 52 events in 9 countries in 2013). Never before had there been so many events organised in the region, continuing the pattern of growth of the 2013 World Day Against the Death Penalty dedicated to the Caribbean.

Events in the USA focused on showing the human face of the death penalty with the release of three powerful documentaries: "There Will Be No Stay", "Last Day of Freedom" and "Bloodsworth: an Innocent Man". In California, an exhibition featuring more than 70 artworks by people incarcerated all over the United States, who were asked to draw and paint their daily life on Death Row was launched on World Day with the title: "Windows on Death Row Art from Inside and Outside the Prison Walls".

► Asia

Asia was the focus of many abolitionists worldwide and the 2015 World Day was particularly relevant in light of events in the region. Ahead of World Day, Asia was also the focus of the 2nd Regional Congress against the death penalty organized by ECPM in partnership with ADPAN in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia in June 2015. The death penalty for drugs was a central point during the regional congress. Several side events were organized in parallel with the congress, including one on Iran and one on advocacy strategies on the death penalty for drugs and UNGASS.

For World Day, World Coalition members organised 70 events in 16 countries, down from 89 events in 17 countries in 2014. However, 109 press mentions were recorded in 17 countries, a significant increase from the 74 press cuts counted in 2014.

The World Coalition targeted two actions to its members based in Asia. First, Asian members of the World Coalition were encouraged to meet with civil society working on drug policy reforms in their countries. To do so, the World Coalition prepared a Q&A on the death penalty and drug offences in partnership with Harm Reduction International and the International Drug Policy Consortium (IDPC). IDPC and the World Coalition then contacted their member organisations and put them in contact with each other for World Day. Similarly, the World Coalition partnered with FIDH to launch a report on the death penalty for drugs in Asia. Members from China, India, Indonesia, Japan, Malaysia, Pakistan, Singapore and Taiwan answered the call of the World Coalition and contributed to the report.

Mobilisation in Indonesia was particularly important for World Day with the publication of the report “Flawed Justice. Unfair Trials and the Death Penalty in Indonesia” by Amnesty International. Indonesian NGOs used this opportunity to organise workshops with lawyers, briefing with diplomats, petition signing campaigns and media work.

Malaysia was again the venue for an international conference in October 2015. "The death penalty for drugs must go, it has no place in a civilised society" said Anand Grover, former UN Special Rapporteur on the right to health, during the opening ceremony of Harm Reduction International's 24th conference in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. One of the first major sessions was dedicated to death penalty lawyers and human rights advocates in Asia who participated in Harm Reduction International's report: Death Penalty for Drug Offenses, Global Overview 2015.

► Europe

For World Day, abolitionists organised 189 events in 21 countries (compared to 133 events in 18 countries in 2014 and 166 events in 44 countries in 2013). This high level mobilisation is due to the fact that several actions were targeted for European members.

Since 2013, Viasna organises a Week Against the Death Penalty in Belarus. In 2015, it expanded its geography to the neighboring countries and from 5 to 10 October, a number of events (film screening, exhibitions, debates...) took place in Lithuania, Poland, Ukraine, and Kazakhstan.

Other events included an SMS Campaign for petition signatures in Norway, a demonstration to bury the death penalty in Paris, Live rock concerts in Italy and a Bicycle Ride Against the Death Penalty in Brussels to go around the Embassies of retentionist countries.

► Middle East and North Africa

For World Day, World Coalition member organisations organised 26 events in 10 countries (compared to 29 events in 7 countries in 2014 and 19 events in 7 countries in 2013) and 51 press cuts in 12 countries were counted. Most of the activities organised focused on information-sharing. In Lebanon, World Coalition members organised a panel discussion on the death penalty and terrorism. Finally some activists launched an online campaign to stop the death penalty in Egypt via Twitter: #StopEgyEx.

► Impact

- China and Vietnam reduced the number of crimes punishable by death in their legislation;
- In Malaysia, a draft amendment on the death penalty law has been prepared in November 2015, in order to remove the mandatory death penalty for drug-related offences;
- In November 2015, the Republic of Congo abolished the death penalty in its constitution;
- Mongolia abolished the death penalty in law in December 2015.

[4] Call on UNODC to implement their 2012 position paper on Human Rights and ban the death penalty in countries where it finances the fight against drug trafficking

Officially, as an entity of the United Nations system, UNODC advocates the abolition of the death penalty and calls upon Member States to follow international standards concerning prohibition of the death penalty for offences of a drug-related nature.

A 2012 position paper on human rights goes as far as to say that: "Even training of border guards who are responsible for arrest of drug traffickers ultimately sentenced to death may be considered sufficiently proximate to the violation to engage international responsibility".

However, this position paper has not been implemented and the UNODC continues to fund programs in countries that still execute people for drug crimes such as Iran and Vietnam.

European states are major funders of aggressive 'supply reduction' focused counternarcotics programmes run by the UNODC. All of them are abolitionists, but do not ask the UNODC to respect its own human rights guidance. To raise awareness on this issue, Reprieve has prepared a memo for World Coalition members and abolitionists based in those countries to contact their authorities and ask them to release information about the UNODC programs they are funding and the UNODC 2012 Position Paper on Human Rights.

This action had a great impact as after the letters from European members were sent, we received official answers from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of France, Italy, Luxemburg and Switzerland. Furthermore, the Deputy Executive Director of UNODC responded to the mailing sent by the World Coalition in July, reiterating their opposition to the death penalty, citing the five-year report.

► Impact

- The European Parliament passed a resolution stating that the abolition of the death penalty for drug-related offences should be made a prerequisite for EU financial and technical assistance to third countries.
- Donors gradually withdraw their support to UNODC programs in countries that still execute people for drug crimes. According to the report "UNODC Annual Appeal 2016", $ 5,41 million are needed to complete the program in Iran, however the UNODC says they have received no funding at all for this program so far.

- World Coalition Against the Death Penalty

The World Coalition Against the Death Penalty, an alliance of more than 160 NGOs, bar associations, local authorities and unions, was created in Rome on 13 May 2002. It was founded as a result of the commitment made by the signatories of the Final Declaration of the 1st World Congress against the Death Penalty organised by the French NGO Together Against the Death Penalty (ECPM) in Strasbourg in June 2001.

The aim of the World Coalition is to strengthen the international dimension of the fight against the death penalty. Its ultimate objective is to obtain the universal abolition of the death penalty. To achieve its goal, the World Coalition advocates for a definitive end to death sentences and executions in those countries where the death penalty is in force. In some countries, it is seeking to obtain a reduction in the use of capital punishment as a first step towards abolition.

Since 2003, the Coalition has made 10 October the World Day against the Death Penalty.
