VI - Conclusions by the Director
During the past 6 years I have had the privilege of working from the Executive Board (EB) for the welfare of the Coalition and its member organizations. The last 4 years in the presidency, with the support of the Steering Committee. Along with me, the treasurer, Guillaume Colin, also reaches the maximum of three consecutive terms that we can serve at the EB; I am deeply grateful to Guillaume for those years of excellent service.

Universal abolition of the death penalty does not come alone; it is driven by the efforts of thousands of activists.
Reviewing this period, one realizes the importance of teamwork and the incalculable value of our network, which naturally carries the coordination of efforts, mutual support and partnership.

When I started on the EB, we were working on a 5 year strategic plan that we have been able to see being implemented, with serious difficulties -primarily due to COVID-19-, but with great determination. Like any organization, we have experienced “growing pains”, we have not been perfect. But I can assure you that, on our way to our 20th anniversary, our struggle today is in a better position, more coordinated, mature, better informed, stronger, more integrated; and in addition to the important work at international organizations, the academia and justice courts, we have taken into account the battles of those who work and fight in every corner of the planet.

Since assuming the presidency, our Coalition has added about 15 organizations to join us in our work. In numbers, there are 3 new abolitionist countries for all crimes, 3 more countries that are abolitionist in practice and 5 states in the United States that abolished capital punishment, in addition to the moratorium on executions in California, which had the biggest death row in that country. We have added, on balance, 6 votes in the UN in favor of the Resolution for a moratorium on the use of the death penalty, in a world that seems to become more polarized on this issue, and on other human rights matters. Several countries also reduced the scope of crimes for which they apply the death penalty.

And, while the trends towards victory is clear, we have faced enormous challenges, such as countries at risk of returning to execute, in particular I will mention the Philippines. We also suffered the spate of federal executions in the United States in the last 6 months of the Trump administration, but on the other hand they elected -for the first time- a president who pledged to abolish the federal death penalty in his campaign. It was with enormous disappointment that we watched the political prosecutions and large number of executions in Egypt; among other drawbacks that we collectively challenged. On top of it, this pandemic has changed everyone’s plans, including ours. Missions in many countries needed to be cancelled, others have just been postponed.

Above all that, during this time we have had the opportunity to develop partnerships with several member organizations, providing them with greater visibility and institutional support, while enhancing their ability to receive funding for specific abolitionist projects. We have also supported work (such as the survey in Iran or the stories of women and the death penalty with Cornell University), and joined with ECPM to co-sponsor a World Congress. We have also entered into agreements with private companies to receive pro-bono work from their lawyers and develop projects that will be of great benefit to the Coalition and to our collective cause.
Finally, although I am sure I have missed several items, I would like to highlight the launch of our new website worldcoalition.org.

From Puerto Rico, a Caribbean and Latin American country, we embrace the universal abolition cause as human rights cause; we renew our vows of solidarity and commitment to fight for a more equitable, fairer societies and for better justice systems which transform the Peoples.

Until abolition! Jusqu’à l’abolition!

Kevin Miguel Rivera Medina,
President

Activity A.2: Producing tailored tools in target countries
To better support its membership for the day, the World Coalition designed specific tools tailored to their needs at their request (including, but not limited to, Eastern Caribbean, Sub-Saharan Africa, Iran, Philippines).

- A specific tool for the Maldives has been created in collaboration with Monash University and Maldivian Democracy Network (MDN). The tool was distributed to the Maldives Working Group and to the participants of the Maldives Strategic Seminar held 24 and 25 November 2020.
- A specific tool for the Philippines has been formatted in collaboration with the Commission on Human Rights Philippines and Monash University in Australia. This tool is a wide-sweeping brochure covering national themes related to the death penalty and the 10 October. This tool will be ready for 2021 due to the delays in translation (11 local languages).
- A survey was conducted in September 2020 by GAMAAN Institute and Iran Human Rights, sponsored by the World Coalition regarding the public opinion about the death penalty in Iran. The survey’s results show a nuanced understanding of Iranian attitudes towards capital punishment and was published ahead of the World Day on 8 October with a press conference on 12 October.

Activity A.3 Coordination of events organized around the world
The very purpose of World Day is to encourage and stimulate decentralized local initiatives in as many countries as possible: debates, press conferences, events, petitions, exhibitions, concerts, presentations in schools or cultural centers, etc.

- Emails sent calling for members to start planning their events on 10 June, 10 July, 10 September as well as a weekly countdown to World Day 3 weeks prior to 10 October.
- The events page on the World Coalition’s website was made public on 10 September. The calendar of events and the map of events was updated daily: http://www.worldcoalition.org/Take-Action-for-World-Day-2020.html and had over 86 events listed on World Day.
- In the week leading up to the 10 October, schedules of online events were electronically distributed daily to encourage participation.

Activity A4: Social Media Campaign
The World Coalition has also developed strategies for using social media, including Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, LinkedIn and WhatsApp to reach a wider audience.

- The social media campaign was officially launched on 1 October on Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram using the hashtag: #nodeathpenalty. 10 posts were published per day (same post in French and English) counting down to 10 October taken from World Day tools. The posts covered “trivia” questions on capital punishment, facts about this year’s theme, and... testimonies. Facebook frames were launched for the first time on 7 October 2020. Facebook does not have an accessible way to measure the analytical success/use of frames.

- A campaign to share World Day tools on WhatsApp for members in Africa was launched again following moderate success in 2019. 58 individuals were contacted to be part of the World Day WhatsApp campaign. One message was sent per individual with tools in the message and encouraged to share the message with co-workers and friends. After a follow up, individuals self-reported to have shared the messages with a total of 3,662 people in 29 African countries.

- A video was produced by Monash University’s Anti-Death Penalty clinic on the state of capital punishment and the right to effective counsel, in spoken English and subtitled in AR, ZH, EN, FR, Hindi, Japanese, RU, ES, Turkish. (B. Speaking tours of death row survivors and victims’ families worldwide)

Activity B.1: The World Coalition contributes to a speaking tour organized by the Greater Caribbean for Life in the Eastern Caribbean.

- The activity was postponed to 2021.

- Indicators: at least 1 Speaking Tour is organized in 2020

President Duterte’s State of the Nation address on 27 July called again for the death penalty. Following the address, in August, 27 bills were heard in the House of Representatives. None were heard in the Senate. Next steps in the house were to close the Committee that heard the bills and make a decision that could include endorsing a bill.   - A letter on GSP+ was written by CPJP and submitted to the World Coalition Steering Committee on 16 September for endorsement.
- Turkey: The Working Group met regularly during 2020 to monitor any developments on the ground in Turkey and to try to include voices from the ground. Two local stakeholders in Turkey, NGOs, were invited to give the much-needed perspective. No bills are currently pending in the National Assembly.

- The preliminary study aiming at identifying national civil society actors campaigning against the return of the death penalty in the country, assessing the risks and supporting actors in their efforts by carrying out a diagnosis of their needs in terms of capacity building, and finally supporting them by defining mobilization strategies against the death penalty was translated and is available in French and English. A 2-page hand-out is being developed to distribute summarizing the study, as it is not available to the public. Due to delays in graphic design, the 2-page handout will be ready to distribute in 2021.

Activity E.6: Monitoring countries at risk of resuming executions.

- The World Coalition has continued to monitor the situation in Cameroon, Liberia, Papua New Guinea, Sri Lanka, South Africa, and Tanzania. It coordinated international advocacy among international member organizations, including through active working groups and with international and regional human rights bodies.

- Maldives: The Working Group met regularly throughout 2020 to monitor the on-going situation on the ground regarding the safety of HRDs and to discuss steps and ideas to support abolitionist steps. As of the end of 2020, no steps have been taken actively by the Maldivian authorities to reintroduce executions, however there is a lack of political will to abolish the death penalty fully.

- A Series of 5 Webinars on working with UN Human Rights Mechanisms was co-lead with the Advocates for Human Rights, Reprieve and Redress. The participants invited were Maldivian NGOs, lawyers and activities who wished to know how to interact with the UN human rights mechanisms. The average number of participants in attendance for each webinar was 7 activists. For security measures, no articles or social media posts were published about the event.

- The WG collaborated with the Maldivian Democracy Network to hold a virtual Strategic Seminar on the Maldives on 24 and 25 November 2020 with a total of 14 participants (of which 6 where participants from the Maldives, 3 currently based in the Maldives and 8 were regional or international NGOs). Discussion focused on the priority abolitionist goal over the next 5 years and how to broaden the abolitionist... voices from the Maldives. For security measures, no articles or social media posts were published about the event.
  o An updated tool on civil society harassment on social media was distributed during the seminar.

USA Federal Executions: Following the resumption of federal executions on 14 July 2020 in the USA, the World Coalition co-signed a letter written by Death Penalty Action, addressed to the United States Congress condemning the executions and calling for an immediate stop. The World Coalition also drafted a statement condemning the lame-duck executions being carried out following the election of anti-death penalty President Biden. This statement was published on the World Coalition webpage.

Activity E.7: Reducing the scope of the death penalty worldwide

- The 14th United Nations Congress on Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice, to be held in Kyoto, Japan, is re-scheduled to take place in a hybrid format (online/in person) from March 7 to 12, 2021.

- Indicators: common strategies, joint submissions, side events, joint statements and advocacy missions are coordinated during all international and regional meetings.

F. Expansion of the network

The World Coalition had one new member in 2020: Salam for Democracy and Human Rights (UK-Bahrain).

G. Other

At the request of its Steering Committee members in light of the COVID-19 pandemic, the World Coalition has undertaken other actions:

- A written statement calling for a worldwide moratorium on the death penalty during the COVID-19 pandemic was prepared and signed by 52 member organizations, then submitted to the United Nations on 4 June. It was also submitted to the Special Rapporteur on Executions and to the High Commissioner on Human Rights on the occasion of the 44th sessions of the United Nations Human Rights Council (22 June).

- A second version of the statement, as an Op-Ed, focused on the impact of the COVID-19 on the death penalty has been written on the basis of the Steering Committee discussions and approved by the latter at the end of May. A press release was shared with the members of the World Coalition and has been widely spread (ACAT France, The Advocates for Human Rights, ADPAN, Coalition tunisienne contre la peine de mort, ECPM, FIACAT, Hands Off Cain, HURILAWS, Justice Project Pakistan, Magistrats européens pour la démocratie et les libertés, REJADD-Togo, Reprieve et the Rights Practice. Both the Op-Ed and the press release have been published online on the World Coalition’s website.
(IV- Internal changes)

(Governance: accountable and inclusive)
To improve its governance, the World Coalition carried out several actions in 2020, including: the adoption of an Internal Control Procedures Manual on 25 September 2020 and the development of a Guide to Preventing Corruption Risks. The workshop to reflect on its governance during a physical meeting of its Steering Committee was postponed due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The risk assessment plan and environmental and gender strategies were not finalized by the end of 2020.

(Monitoring and evaluation plan: result-based)
In 2020, the World Coalition conducted an internal evaluation of 2 of 3 regional projects through the establishment of three specific working groups. Internal evaluation of its two regional projects (Sub-Saharan Africa and Countries at Risk) were completed and sent to membership on 22 July 2020. The internal evaluation of the project on Barbados and the Eastern Caribbean States could not be finalized.
In addition, the World Coalition continued to monitor its strategic plan to ensure that programs are running smoothly and achieving their goals. The Steering Committee, in charge of its supervision, could not meet for strategic discussions at the end of the year, but assessed the results of the mid-term strategic plan and prepare the 2021 annual action plan during an online meeting.

(Communication strategy: innovation)
In 2020, the communication working group was responsible for accompanying the redesign of the website. The promotion of technological innovation and digital communications gave the World Coalition the best tools to facilitate its work and better communicate with its member organizations, including through more efficient videoconferencing systems, essentials in times of pandemic.

(Financial strategy: diversification)
A working group on core funding was created in 2020 to help with the financial strategy in terms of private funding and core funding to further diversify the sources of funding of the World Coalition and ensure its long-term sustainability.
The World Coalition has a surplus of €8,583 in 2020 despite the health crisis of the past year. Indeed, the activity of the year 2020 was globally lower than that of 2019 due to the pandemic which limited international travels and physical meetings. Expenses thus represent €360,253 in 2020 (€448,446 in 2019). Salary expenses have slightly increased in 2020 from €129,004 to €161,536 due to the growth of the team from 3 to 4 employees and the replacement of Aurélie Plaçais, our Executive Director, during her maternity leave.

Membership fees for the year 2020 (€8,660) have decreased significantly compared to 2019 (€10,553) and represent only 2% of the Coalition’s resources this year. Public operating grants remain the Coalition’s main resources (AFD: 36%; EU: 37%; Belgium: 15%). The total income thus decreased from €450,288 in 2019 to €368,836 in 2020 due to the Covid-19 pandemic.

Sources of funding in 2020

The Coalition's reserve fund is now €71,890.

Guillaume Colin
Treasurer
2020 has been a year of many challenges for the World Coalition, with the COVID-19 crisis, significant changes in the staff and in our ways of working and advocating for the abolition of the death penalty.

Being an international network, the World Coalition was better equipped than most to face the new normal and to work from a distance. However, what makes the World Coalition so successful is also the friendship and solidarity between member organizations and that has not been easy to maintain with the travel ban and social distancing induced by the pandemic in 2020.

The changes in the small secretarial team, with the recruitment of three new people and the departure of an employee who had been there since 2009, have also accentuated this feeling of isolation.

But these challenges have also been an opportunity to improve and accelerate some reforms, to adopt new internal control procedures, to invest in new technologies and develop a new Website. It has also been a year to reflect on current projects with 3 internal evaluations and prepare for the future.

The worldwide trend towards abolition has continued in 2020 and the World Coalition has been able to adapt to this new environment and continue its activities against the odds.
